

Dear families,

Please find a list of websites below that will allow your child access to a range of different reading books. They are all free to register/ join.

1-Oxford Owl reading and spelling- <https://www.oxfordowl.co.uk/>

Select Oxford Owl school- log in, select student login

Class name = psm2 -change for your class Password= Password1

The Oxford Owl e book library contains phonetically decodable books -that follow a similar reading colour band to those that we use in school, if you are unsure you can check the yellow reading record book that your child has at home to see what the last colour band they were reading before the Christmas holidays.

2-'Get Epic' <https://www.getepic.com/> Class code for Year 2 is skk1548- please change for your class once registered

Children enter in their class code, find their name and read a wide range of non-fiction and fiction books. They can also search for books on the site which are of interest to them.

Children can get into the site for free from Monday to Friday 7am - 4pm each day, which is ideal for home learning.

It tells the teacher how many books each child has read. Some of the books are on the AR reading scheme. If not, they can do a quiz on that site.

3-BorrowBox is part of the library service.
